Passive voice

Active: the doer is the subject. Passive: the action is the subject.

- Active: The teacher checks the papers. Passive: The papers are checked (by the teacher).
- Step 1: The object of the active sentence becomes the subject.
- Step 2: Use be in the same tense as the active verb, then V3.
- Step 3: Add by + the doer only if it is important. Often we leave it out: My phone was stolen.

Passive in every tense (fill in with your teacher)

Tense	Active	Passive formula	Passive sentence
Present simple	The teacher checks the papers.
Present continuous	The teacher is checking the papers.
Present perfect	The teacher has checked the papers.
Past simple	The teacher checked the papers.
Past continuous	The teacher was checking the papers.
Past perfect	The teacher had checked the papers.
Future simple	The teacher will check the papers.
Future perfect	The teacher will have checked the papers.
With can / must	The teacher can check the papers.

Remember: the perfect continuous tenses are almost never used in the passive.
